OF CITY OF WINDSOR.

425

Miscellaneous Directory of Windsor, Sandwich and Walkerville 1912

The City of Windsor occupies a commanding situation on the Detroit River immediately opposite the City of Detroit.

A large import and export trade is done, and the manufacturing interests are gradually increasing in importance. The customs duties for the fiscal year ending March 31st, 1912 were $2,094,000, Inland Revenue for the same period, $580,450.00.

The assessment for 1912 is $13,281,700. In 1880 it was $1,943,445. The net bonded debt is $772,364.21. The debt looks large, but when we consider that the city has more public improvements than most cities of double or treble the population, consisting of many miles of expensively paved streets, granolithic walks, sewers, water works and schools, this is to some extent accounted for.

Windsor's flourishing suburbs (the division line being an alley in each case), are, on the east,

Walkerville, founded by Hiram Walker in 1858, a community of 3,900 population, mostly manufacturing, and Sandwich on the west, the county town, containing the jail, court house, registry office, county treasurer, etc., and a large R C college, and has a population of 2,300, largely residential. There is an up-to-date street car system serving the three places, besides an hourly suburban line to picturesque Amherstburg, on the south 18 miles, another south-east to Leamington, 30 miles, and still another to the east along the banks of the Detroit River and Lake St Clair to Tecumseh, 9 miles.

Many lines of freight and passenger steamers call daily during the season.

Railroads entering Windsor are Grand Trunk, Canadian Pacific, Pere Marquette, Wabash and Michigan Central, and a belt line connecting all these roads.

The river crossing of a half
